LOWDEN BOOM IMPORTANT IN G. O. P. FIGHT

Former Illinois Governor Was Pledging Candidates While Others Only "Claimed"

HAS REAL OPPORTUNITY
Managers Assert He Will Be Leading Candidates in Fifth Ballot

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1928 Post Pub. Co.
Washington — The most important development in the Republican presidential contest is the rise of the Lowden campaign.

For several weeks it has been assumed that the former Illinois executive was not making headway and that his votes would sooner or later
be turned over to Vice President Dawes. The word from the Lowden camp now is that their candidate has a real opportunity as a first choice proprietor and that while the other candidates have been making claims,
the Lowden managers have gone out
and pledged the delegates.

The confident assertion is being made that on the fourth or fifth ballot
Governor Lowden will have more votes than any other candidate. It is being claimed that he will have enough to be nominated, for no candidate
as yet has any such number in sight or even promised on second choice voting.

MAY OFFSET HOOVER

The possibility is being discussed
that the Lowden bloc will be strong enough to offset the Hoover group of delegates. In other words, the first deadlock may come between the Lowden
and Hoover camps.

Behind the Lowden movement is a capable management which has once before pulled up a sizeable number of delegates. It is not surprising, therefore,
that as before but one that knows how to make inroads in the state delegations.
It would not be surprising, for instance,
to find the Lowden managers
getting pledges from a majority of both the Indiana and Ohio delegations.

The chief reason for believing that the Lowden boom will grow is the expectation that President Coolidge will veto the McNary-Haugen bill and that the western Republicans will become so antagonized as to drop all administration support which would be left.

The argument is being offered, on the other hand, by the Hoover people that the Republican party as a whole
could not afford to nominate any candidate
who was directly opposed to the policies of an administration
which they were naturally expected
to defend before the people.

Smith adds strength
In the Democratic race, the gradual increase in the number of delegates pledged to Governor Smith is causing quite a flurry, especially in the opposition camps, where it had been hoped that the Smith boom had gone to its highest point already and would recede.

The claims of the Smith group are
that at least 513 delegates will come to Governor Smith on the first ballot but this is being discounted at the moment
by the other candidates, especially from the favorite son states, which are supposed to be ready to turn to the Smith camp. Certainly the New York Governor's campaign is growing stronger and the one-child
block which can prevent his nomination is not yet organized. The main reason for the growth of the Smith
boom is that the practical politicians
are on his side in number of states
where public sentiment would be expected to be against the New York
governor's prohibition views.

As the opportunity for Governor
Smith to be nominated grows brighter,
the effect on the Republican race
will be noticeable, as the Republicans will want to nominate not merely a man who might win against Smith
but a man they are convinced can win
for the entire ticket.

CLARA KNAPP ACCEPTS GRAND JURY SUBPENA

Middlebury, Vt.—(AP)—Miss Clara B.
Knapp has accepted service of a subpoena
for her appearance at the grand jury investigation into the conduct of the 1925 New York state census by her step-mother, Mrs. Florence E. S.
Knapp, former secretary of state of New York.

Miss Knapp is a teacher of home economics at Middlebury college. She had been in seclusion for several days.

GERMAN FLYERS DECIDE TO ABANDON PLANE

SWARM OF BEES TIE UP TRAFFIC, CAUSE SEVERAL COLLISIONS

Tulare, Cal.—(AP)—Scores of motorists
were stung and several minor collisions resulted from a bee
blockade which jammed traffic on the state highway 14 miles south
of here for several hours Monday.
The blockade started when a truckload and a trailer of bee hives collided. A huge swarm of bees arose from the hives and immediately got busy. Traffic officers were stationed at strategic points to warn motorists, but the bees proved
to have a wider range than expected.
It was impossible to remove the bees and clear the highway until nightfall when they returned to their hives.

PHYSICIAN SLAIN IN HOSPITAL ROW

Male Nurse Shoots Sanatorium Head, Accused of Murder in 1919

Louisville, Ky.—(AP)—Dr. Christopher C. Schott, 51, slain Monday in his private sanatorium by a male nurse,
had been on Louisville's front page intermittently since Christmas eve, 1919,
when Elizabeth Griffin, 17, the physician's employee, was found dead in his office.
Charged with murder for the girl's death, Dr. Schott proved an alibi and the grand jury refused an indictment.
He declared she killed herself. Police contended the absence of powder burns
showed the girl could not have fired
the shot that killed her.
The physician had been drinking heavily Monday, employees of his sanatorium stated. His slayer, Dan Newman, 40, is said to have resented the use of "foul language" in the presence of women attendants and to have remonstrated when Dr. Schott abused the cook for misplacing a key. The two men had trusted each other for three weeks, a nurse stated, and Newman procured a pistol from his room
when Dr. Schott continued his abuse.
Returning to the kitchen, Newman fired four shots, three of them taking effect. The slayer then called police.
The grand jury considered his weapon with
the statement that he fired in self defense.
He was held without bail for murder.

330 CLOTHING WORKERS WALK OUT IN MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee—(AP)—Labor trouble resulted in 330 union clothing workers
being absent from work Tuesday morning at shops of the David Adler and Sons Co. Union officials said the trouble arose from the discharge of four union workers, but Philip Adler,
vice president of the company, said
he had not ascertained the cause of the trouble. He claimed the workers were on strike while union leaders
averred they were locked out.
The workers are members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America and are not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.
Mr. Adler said workers at plant walked out Monday noon without giving any notice, and violated their agreement.
"Their open breach automatically
threw them out of work," Mr. Adler said.
Union leaders said the company discharged four union workers. Mr. Adler said he was not sure they were discharged but thought they were laid off.
A sign reading "No work today"
was hung out at the plants Tuesday
morning as a result of the walkout.
Mr. Adler said, He said 180 employees were out at the south side shops and about 100 more at plants on 12th and 50 cutters in the main plant at Detroit and Broadway. About 70 per cent of the workers are women.

Prohibition Excluded From Socialist Planks

New York—(AP)—Prohibition has been excluded as an issue in the presidential campaign of the Socialist party.
This action was taken by the delegates to the national convention of the party Monday night when a resolution was adopted, 72 to 30, to ignore the prohibition question in the party's platform.
Norman Thomas, nominated as the party presidential nominee, expressed the opinion that Prohibition was "a Republican and Democratic mess" and that the issue was relatively unimportant in comparison with the issue
which the Socialist party will stress
in its campaign.
Prohibition was brought before the convention by Victor L. Berger, of Wisconsin, who presented a minority report favoring light wine and beer.
Mr. Thomas, in accepting his nomination, told the delegates he did not expect to be elected, but was "prouder
of being in the apostolic line of succession from Eugene Debs" than he would be of victory at the polls.

TESTIFY HAYS SEARCHED FOR BOND RECORDS

Say G. O. P. Chairman Gave New Yorker Money to Wipe Out Campaign Deficit

Washington—(AP)—Testimony that Will H. Hays, former Republican national chairman, visited her home early this year in search of the record
of a Liberty bond transaction with her late husband, was given the senate
Teapot Dome committee Tuesday by Mrs. John T. Pratt, of New York.
Previous testimony has been that Harry F. Sinclair turned over a large batch of Liberty bonds to Hays and that Hays gave $50,000 of them to Pratt to dispose of in wiping out a campaign deficit. Through Pratt's records the names of Secretary Mellon, William M. Butler, present Republican chairman and John W. Weeks, former secretary of war, were brought into the inquiry as prospective recipients of the securities.
Mrs. Pratt said she believed Hays came to her home on Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 22, and asked me if I could find the record of the Liberty bonds
he gave to Mr. Pratt.
"That was February of the present year?" Mrs. Pratt was asked, referring to Hays' visit.
"Yes sir. It was then that I went to the office of Charles Pratt and company and looked up the record."
"When was the previous visit?"
"Two or three years before."
Mrs. Pratt had no personal knowledge of the transaction between her husband and Hays. Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian,
now under penitentiary sentence, likewise told the committee he knew nothing of the operations of the Continental Trading Co., from whom the bonds came.
Clarence C. Chase, former collector of customs at El Paso, Tex., and son-in-law of Albert B. Fall, testified that Fall asked him to go to Cleveland in November and see Price Mc-Kinney as to why he had not replied to a letter written to him by the former interior secretary.
The former customer collector said
he met Fall at Kansas City after the visit to McKinney and accompanied him to New York, Atlantic City and Washington.

"What did Mr. Fall go to New York for?" Walsh asked.
"To see Mr. Doherty."
"What did he want to see him for?"
"To see whether Mr. Doherty still had the note Mr. Fall had given him when he borrowed the $100,000," Chase replied. "The note was mutilated, the signature having been torn off."
Asked why he had refused to testify before the committee in 1921,
Chase said he had a joint account with Fall and had handled some of the Doherty money and was apprehensive that he might be indicted with Fall as the senate had directed the employment of special oil counsel to prosecute the case.
"I intended to appear before the committee but when I got a telegram from Fall saying he was coming, I decided not to appear," he said.

JOCKEY KILLED WHILE PRACTICING FOR RACE

Havre de Grace, Md.—(AP)—Orville Bourassa, nationally known jockey,
was fatally injured Tuesday morning
when a broken saddle girth threw him
from his mount on to the fence in a workout.
Bourassa was taking Julia H. for an early workout and just as they reached the four furlong post the saddle girth broke. The rider was thrown against the fence, his head
striking the top of an upright post.
He died within an hour after the accident.

PAYING OF FINES ENDS WOMAN WHIPPING CASE

La Crosse—(AP)—Payment of fines
of $1 each, together with combined costs of $18.81, brought an end to the episode in which one La Crosse woman whipped another whom she found in her husband's company.
The fines were paid by Louis and Edwin Thum, father and brother, respectively of Mrs. Carl Boughton. The two men accompanied Mrs. Boughton while she shipped Labeled Idegar, who was found in Boughton's company.
The pair was found guilty of assault and fined. They planned to appeal to the circuit court but finally withdrew their appeal, paying their fines.

ments in Wisconsin and Michigan

AL SMITH BREAKS SILENCE IN SOUTH

Presidential Candidate Won't Attend Houston Con- vention

Asheville, N. C.—(AP)—Although negatively Governor Alfred W. Smith, of New York, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, has broken
his political silence in the south
where he came in search of recreation
on the golf links.
An interview brought the statement
from him that he would not attend the Houston convention, his cohorts
will battle for the delegate votes necessary to name the party standard bearer. Pressed by newspapermen as to whether he might reconsider this decision, the governor said:
"No, I mean that I will not attend.
There is no use of my going."
There was no elaboration of this statement and friends of the New York
executive now vacationing here at the Biltmore Forest Country club would make no comment or venture to predict the reasons back of the decision.
The declaration came on the eve of the meeting in New York Tuesday
of the Democratic state executive committee, which was expected to take some action formally placing Smith in the presidential contest beside rounding out the state's 50 delegate votes
pledged to him, by naming eight delegates at large with a half vote each at the Houston convention. The 86 district delegates already had been named.

CAL REGARDS CONTROL BILL AS EXTORTIONATE

Washington—(AP)—President Coolidge regards the pending flood control bill as the most extortionate measure that has passed any branch of congress since he has been president.
He does believe that neither the senate nor the senate committee were acquainted with its ramifications and he is surprised that the measure passed
the senate with so little discussion.
The president attributes the raising of the administration bill from approximately $260,000,000 to $1,400,000, 999 largely to agitation by lumber interests.
While not wishing the government
to take over lands of lumber companies without just compensation, the president believes the opportunity should not be seized to involve the government in large damages by obtaining lands to carry out the flood relief proposals.

AVIATOR STARTS TRIP AROUND SOUTH AMERICA

Fresno, Calif.—(AP)—Jimmy Angel
veteran aviator, took off here at 5:37
Tuesday morning on a projected 25,
000 mile flight around South America.
His first scheduled stop was Mexico.
Mexico to obtain a customs clearance
before leaving for Guayaquil, Ecuador, 250 miles south of the border.
If the expected speed is maintained
the party will reach Guayaquil, Ecuador, 550 miles south of the border by night.
It is the plan of the party to map
every landing field, en route, and to make a complete photographic record of the trip.
From the border line south to Guayaquil there are no known landing fields. At Guayaquil the party will make a move for the Copalita Mining Company before proceeding on their trip. They will fly down the west coast of Mexico to the Panama canal
and then go down the east coast of South America. Their objective is the Strait of Magellan which they plan to fly from the air. Returning,
they will come up the west coast of South America and Mexico, bringing the flight to a close in Texas.

CAN'T REPAIR BREMEN WHILE ON SMALL ISLE

Travel to Murray Bay With Relief Plane; Take Junkers F-13 to New York

(By the Associated Press)
Messages from the frozen north Tuesday reported that the trans-Atlantic flier who landed on Greenly Island will fly on to New York at once,
but not in their own ship.

The reports varied in detail but agreed on the essentials that the Junkers monoplane Bremen would be left behind for shipping by boat to Haitian, and that the three members of the German crew would fly to
New York together in the Junkers
F-13, a sister ship of the Bremen.
First reports of developments
Tuesday came from Montreal and told of the decision of the German pilots to abandon attempts to repair
the Bremen on Greenly island. Wingless operators in touch with the Island were given as source of the information. It was added that the Germans, Baron Humeffeld and Captain Koehl, would fly to the mainland in a relief plane, rejoin Major Fitzmaurice
and his Irish companion, and continue to New York in the F-13.
Major Fitzmaurice flew from the Island to Nantassqua Monday in a relief plane.
Another message from Ottawa, relayed through Quebec from Seven Islands, reported that all three members of the crew were already in the air on their way to Murray Bay in the plane used by Fitzmaurice Monday.

It was felt that this message might possibly have been garbled in relays
as there had been no previous report of Fitzmaurice returning to the Island.
After the Bremen landed on the Island a Canadian Transcontinental Airways plane was flown there to bring assistance from Murray Bay by Major Fitzmaurice and his Irish companion, Monday. Schiller and Fitz-maurice started back to Murray Bay
but came down in a storm at Nantassqua.
It had been supposed that they would continue Tuesday and no
report of their having turned back to the island was received prior to the arrival of the three Trans-Atlantic fliers, Schiller and Cuisinier, were aboard and headed for Murray Bay.
The F-13 flew to Montreal Monday
and could easily make connection with the Canadian Airways plane at Quebec or some other convenient point to take on the trans-Canada line
and transport them to New York.

BLAMES LIGHT SYSTEM Point Amour, Que.—(By Montreal wireless to the Canadian Press)

Failure of the lighting system on the Bremen which made it impossible
for them to read their instruments
for hours was blamed Tuesday by Fitzmaurice and his Irish companion, Monday. Schiller and Cuisinier, were
aboard and headed for Murray Bay.

one year for violation of the national prohibition act," on Monday by order of Federal Judge F.
A. Gelber.

plans to proceed immediately with construction of an eight-story

D. A. R. TURNS TO RESOLUTION WORK

Pre-convention Rumbblings on "Blacklist" Policy Fails to Break

Washington—(AP)—Having heard President Coolidge warn against the destruction of local self-government
and other prominent speakers on pre-convention rumbblings on the national officers in blacklisting national
speakers and supporting the national American Revolution, dispensed
with speeches Tuesday and turned to
the more business like activity of considering resolutions.

tents among a small group of society
members over the policy of the national officers in blacklisting national
speakers and supporting the national American Revolution, dispensed
with speeches Tuesday and turned to
the more business like activity of considering resolutions.
Indications Tuesday were that the pretext would take the form of a resolution demanding that the national officers in the future announce no national policy without first submitting
the matter to the national society.
The national organization is getting away from the principles of its founders and would today "condemn as heeds" Patrick Henry and the other patriots from whom they proudly
claim descent, one delegate said.

sible speed.
Araki is racing Ryusicht Matsui,
the westbound contestant. Both left Tokyo April 6 to determine which is the quicker route around the world,
using only ordinary means of transportation. Matsui now is on a train somewhere along the Trans-Siberian railroad and is due to Moscow April

BANDIT HOLDS UP TRAIN IN CHICAGO YARD

Masked Robber Takes More Than $5,000 in Cash and Jewelry from 10 Passengers

Chicago—(AP)—A man wearing a blue polka-dot mask held up ten passengers in the observation car of the Overland Limited as it pulled out of the Chicago and Northwestern station
Monday night and escaped with cash
and jewels valued at $5,000 or more.
Among those robbed, special officers
of the Northwestern learned, was W.
H. Crocker, president of the Crocker
National Bank of San Francisco and Republican national committeeman of California. His loss in cash was reported to have been $500.
His daughter, Helen, who was with him, also was robbed of some cash,
but succeeded in saving her jewelry.
Owing to confusion that followed the robbery, which took place while the train was running the four miles to Kedzie-ave, first reports were that four robbers were involved. Investigation, however, revealed that the robbery was the work of one man.
The holdup was quickly accomplished and the robber gave before the alarm was given. Flashing a revolver on the occupants of the observation car, whom he herded to the rear
platform, the robber passed rapidly
from one to the other, taking wallets,
purses, rings and other jewelry.
When the train was approaching Kedzie-ave, traveling about 45 miles an hour, the man pulled the emergency cord, automatically setting the brakes. He dropped into the darkness of the yard as the train stopped.
George Lane, conductor, told officers he remembered seeing the man,
unmasked, lounging in a drawing room doorway, bidding goodbye to an elderly friend. As the train got under way the man put on the mask,
dismounted himself and walked toward
the rear platform.
As soon as he dropped from the back platform at Kedzie-ave, his victim, a man in a suit and overcoat, sprang "hold him!"
The man, who was armed with a gun, hearing the cry, seized the chance and ran, expecting a robber attack.
Most of the passengers were in the Pullman cars and were not aware of the robbery until the victim sprang from the observation platform. Many passengers, however, saw the man
dismount and saw him running toward
the rear platform.
Among the passengers who had reservations was a former heavyweight
champion of the world, but his name
was not mentioned among those who were robbed.

WITNESS ADMITS LIE Tells Government Attorney He Sent Memorandum to Sen- tor Didn't Tell Truth

Washington—(AP)—Defending the action of Albert B. Fall in leasing Teapot Dome to Harry F. Sinclair, the defense in the oil case Tuesday introduced testimony that the Gulf Oil Co.
and the Teapot Dome Co. were objectionable as possible lessees because they were dominated by the Mellon and the Hawes families, both of which were represented in the administration.
J. Foster Bain, former government geologist, gave the testimony, during a long examination into which the question of dominion of the dome came up constantly, notwithstanding the ruling of the court that it was not relevant. Bain was allowed to tell of conversations with Fall, where the danger of drainage was discussed, but he could not put into the record his own conclusions as to that possibility.
Dismissing a defense cross examination toward Bain, Owen L. Roberts, for the government, suddenly veered to Bain's appearance before the senate
Teapot Dome investigation in the fall of 1923, shooting a question about Bain's failure at that time to mention
the Mellon and the Hawes families.
Bain, justice of the Supreme Court,
in his testimony, had been required
to tell whether or not he had informed the senate investigation committee that the Gulf Company was considered as a lessee of Teapot Dome.

MEAD BOOMED FOR LA FOLLETTE'S JOB IN U. S. SENATE

"Regular" Republicans Urged Papermaker to Get in Field Against Senator

Following conferences of state Republican political leaders, candidates for state offices have been suggested and lines are being drawn for the September primary, according to Madison political forecasters. The dopest predict this lineup:

For United States senator—George W. Mead, now mayor of Wisconsin Rapids, will oppose Robert M. La Follette, incumbent.

For governor—Fred R. Zimmerman, Milwaukee, incumbent, will be opposed by Joseph D. Beck, Viroqua, present congressman from the seventh district.

Beck and La Follette are the Blaine-La Follette candidates while the other two men are endorsed by the opposition to the La Follette group.

Although many regular Republicans would prefer some other candidate than Zimmerman, they feel a divided fight would make the opposition more formidable and as a result their acceptance of Zimmerman's candidacy is a bit of political wisdom, the Madison writers figure. The announcement by John D. Jones, former commissioner of agriculture, that he had decided not to be a candidate for governor, strengthens Governor Zimmerman's position, one dopest believe.

The Blaine-La Follette people have decided they cannot afford to lose the candidates for the Republican nomination for governor and therefore Mr. Beck is to come from Washington to Wisconsin for the platform conference to be held May 19, the writer says.

THINK PARENTS NEED SCHOOL EDUCATION

Parent-Teachers Association, Convening at Madison, Have Ideas of Own

Madison—(P)—Parents will be taught how to send their children to school, it was announced here Tuesday following the opening of the Parent-Teachers convention.

The state university extension department has added a course for parents of school children as a cooperative move toward solution of parenthood problems, and in response to a demand from mothers clubs, parent teacher associations and other child study groups.

Eight guided-club studies, prepared by Mrs. Edith E. Hoyt, assistant professor of education, deal with such subjects as education for parenthood and family life, guidance functions in secondary schools, youth and the new age, early adolescence characteristics, hazards and possibilities; elementary school problems, what the school expects of the child at certain ages, the meaning of the first three years of life, and child development from infancy through school.

Mrs. Hoyt holds that the "vocation of parenthood has taken on many difficulties and obligations under new conditions of modern life. One of the most practical and necessary aspects of adult education is that relating to nurture of children in the home."

Mechanical details for the courses are being perfected.

The proprietor was arrested and is to appear in court in Green Bay Tuesday. According to the officers the bottles taken from the cache were labeled "Johnny Walker" and "Kentucky Club."

Art Baster, 435 Main-st. Green Bay, was arrested after the officers found seven gallons of alleged liquor in bottles and jugs, under the bar in his soft drink parlor. Both the men were ordered to appear in court Tuesday.

NEW MEMBER CAUSES HIGHWAY COMMISSION TO ORGANIZE AGAIN

Body Has Gained Much Publicity Through Strife Within Ranks

Madison—(P)—Another one of the frequent reorganizations of the state highway commission was forthcoming Tuesday with the taking-of-office of P. Walter Petersen, Racine, who was appointed to the commission last Saturday by Governor Fred R. Zimmerman.

His appointment followed the resignation of W. J. Hubbard, Milwaukee, who left his post in favor of the village presidency, the attorney general having held in the case of George Staudenmayer his predecessor, that the two offices were incompatible.

Further reorganization may have to be made should Mr. Staudenmayer's threatened suit against the new commissioner materialize and be decided adversely to Mr. Petersen. Mr. Staudenmayer never resigned and contended that Mr. Hubbard, his first successor, held his place illegally. He contemplates the same court action against Mr. Petersen.

The highway commission reorganizations, recurrent since the opening of the road school and legislature since 1927, were sometimes sensational.

The road school was surprised with the announcement that John T. Donaghey, chief engineer for the commission, had been supplanted by E. J. Kuelling. It was all accomplished in a brief commission meeting, but the contest that followed struggled through several months of state legislature joint committee investigations, sensational newspaper headlines, charges and counter charges. The appointment of the new engineer brought many changes in personnel. During the investigation other changes were made. M. W. Torkelson, resigned as secretary of the commission in protest against Mr. Donaghey's removal, accompanying his quit-statement, with one denouncing "control" in the commission.

J. T. Nemachek was appointed as a commissioner. His appointment caused a reorganization. He resigned a few months ago. Ralph C. Bretting, Ashland, was appointed to take his place. Another realignment of the work of the commissioners.

Mr. Staudenmayer was eliminated from the commission under the ruling of the attorney general and Mr. Hubbard was appointed instead, served a few meetings, then quit to sit in the Shorewood village president's chair, saying that he felt he owed his best work to his nearest community, the village. Comes now Mr. Petersen.

Next? The resignation of Mr. Kuelling was expected today. He eyes a lucrative place with associated road builders.

Next? The commission will have to pick a successor to Mr. Kuelling.

DECIDE DEER CREEK ELECTION WAS LEGAL

Town Clerk Asks for Opinion Because Date on Which Town Caucus Was Held

The town of Deer Creek election on April 3, was held legal in an opinion given Monday by District Attorney John A. Lonsdorf to Charles Murray, Deer Creek, town clerk. Mr. Murray had asked for the opinion because, he said, someone had informed him the town caucus was illegal because it was held only 13 days before the election. The state law specifies town caucuses must be held 17 days before the election.

At the election, Anthony McClone, town chairman for 13 years, was defeated by August Lipke by four votes.

Mr. Lonsdorf points out that inasmuch as neither of the candidates objected to holding the caucus or the election, he believed the election was legal.

"Both sides entered the nominations and the election without objections and I believe the election is legal," Mr. Lonsdorf said. The district attorney quotes several specific instances and cases where similar matters were decided by courts.

How To Play Bridge

By Milton C. Work

This week three more playing situations will be given. They are hands in which a Declarer, as soon as he sees Dummy, should make up his mind as to the method of campaign he will employ. How should the Declarer plan to play today's hand, with a Spade contract?

Declarer should exhaust the adverse trumps which probably can be accomplished in three rounds; then lead a Heart from Closed Hand and duck in Dummy no matter what Heart West may play. If the adversaries continue Diamonds, as is likely, Declarer would win in the Closed Hand, lead a second Heart and duck a second time. If the adversaries should continue Hearts, the Declarer would duck the second trick. The only danger is a Club lead which might upset Declarer's plan; but it is a possibility that he cannot avoid and, while he could make but one Club trick if he led the suit, there is a remote chance that an adverse lead of it may give him another.

TOMORROW'S HAND

WEST LEADS
♠ 7-3-2

Declarer will see that he can take five trump tricks, one Heart trick, two Diamond tricks and one Club trick—a total of nine, one short of game. There is no way in which he can utilize Dummy's trumps for ruffing and consequently only one possible way of making the extra trick, and that depends upon finding the six adverse Hearts divided three in each hand. In that case Dealer probably will be able to make up a thirteenth Heart in Dummy and get a much needed discard on it. Of course the probability is that the six adverse Hearts will not be evenly divided; however, it can do no harm to try.

Declarer should win the first trick with the Ace; if he won with the King, lot adversaries could mark the Ace in his hand; but if he win with the Ace, while East will know that he has the King because West would not have led the Queen from King-Queen, West will not be sure about it because, from West's standpoint, East might have the King. ALL THAT'S NEEDED IS
MONEY FOR THE BAND

Madison—(AP)—Wisconsin will have no official state band until 1930. Although a bill was passed at the last regular session of the legislature authorizing the music school of the University of Wisconsin to hold a contest, which would select the band, the contestants select an official band to represent Wisconsin on state occasions, the bill did not provide the necessary funds for holding such a meet, and the officials of the music are powerless to act until an appropriation for the purpose can be obtained from the legislature at its next session.

The university's biennial appropriation does not include any surplus funds that can be used for financing state band contests.

Harry Sinclair Playing For Liberty,
Biggest Stakes In Gambling Career

Harry Sinclair, who gambled in oil and made millions and who cleaned up another fortune on his race horses, is now playing for the biggest stakes in his career—his liberty. Already under two jail sentences for refusing to answer questions asked by the senate's Teapot Dome committee and for hiring detectives to "shadow" jurors in his first trial, he is now on trial in Washington for a second time on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government of millions in connection with the Teapot Dome oil lease. These sketches tell his story.

2-3—With $5000 insurance money collected after a hunting accident, Sinclair invested in oil and profited enormously. . . . He built up a $70,000,000 corporation with oil fields throughout the world.

4—Soon after Sinclair obtained the Teapot Dome lease from Secretary Ball, the government, charges Ball's son-in-law visited the Sinclair private car in Washington and was as given $198,000 in Liberty bonds. Next day, $35,000 more was given in New York.

5-6—An owner of famous race horses, including Zev, Sinclair won $197,000 in two seasons. Called before a Senate committee to explain the Teapot Dome lease, he refused to testify and was sentenced to jail for three months. His appeal is pending.

7—U. S. supreme court, in upholding government's claim for recovery of Teapot Dome field, declared Sinclair's lease was "tainted with fraud."

8—Sinclair's first criminal trial was halted abruptly by the judge, for paying charges that Sinclair's detectives were "shadowing" the jurors. Sinclair was sentenced to jail for contempt and has appealed.

9—Charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in the Teapot Dome lease, Sinclair is tried the second time.

P. T. A. WOULD PASS
ON MOVING PICTURESCommittee Chairman Wants
List of Forthcoming Movies
to Be Approved

Madison—(AP)—Mrs. A. M. Fosvig, Superior, motion picture chairman of the state Parent-Teachers Association, Tuesday charged all members of the organization with responsibility for the type of pictures Wisconsin children are to see.

In her report to the state convention of work her committee contemplates for the coming year she asked the cooperation of all members and especially the motion picture chairman of local and divisional units in the listing of pictures—good and bad—for children and also urge cooperation with the theater managers in this selection. She said that more and better work could be done through working with the theater men than in opposition to them.

"So far," she said, "the producer doesn't take the responsibility regarding presence of children in motion picture houses is entirely up to the parents and consequently few pictures are made expressly for children or even having any considerable child-interest. Titles are often misleading and parents often unwittingly take or send their children to see pictures that had they known the real nature of beforehand they would never have allowed them to see."

Mrs. Fosvig asked cooperation of the district and regional motion picture chairmen in obtaining from theater managers lists of forthcoming pictures from the list of approved picture lists prepared by the national P. T. A. organization. Having checked the lists of pictures coming to their local movie house, Mrs. Fosvig declared that the only means of using it to advantage was to get into the hands of parents the list, monthly, of pictures which the federation had approved, from those to be shown.

She suggested to the convention the various mechanical details of this listing.

MAKE SURVEY TO OUST
COUNTY ILLITERACY

Madison—(AP)—The elimination of illiteracy in Walworth-co is the purpose of a survey now being made there, Miss Maude Mitchell, Elkhoron, told the Parent Teachers Association meeting here today. Miss Mitchell is chairman of the illiteracy committee of the association.

A questionnaire has been sent to rural school teachers in the county. Miss Mitchell said, asking that the committee be furnished the name of each illiterate person in the community. By definition, an illiterate person is "a normal minded person over ten years of age who cannot read at all nor write his own name in any language." In 1920, the county had an illiterate population of 179, but early returns from the questionnaire showed that number had been materially reduced, Miss Mitchell said.

An organization of University women in Racine has undertaken to eliminate illiteracy from that city, Miss Mitchell said. She believes the "personal touch" method is the one best calculated to stamp out illiteracy, and urged that members of the Parent-Teacher association interest themselves in carrying out the first teaching processes.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentation in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." ## THERE ARE HOUSES FOR RENT IF YOU CAN AFFORD THEM

Anything for Less Than $50 Per Month is Practically Off the Market

There are houses to rent in Appleton if you can pay the prices asked by the landlord, according to Appleton real estate men. And in the same breath they will add that the houses they speak of are first class and completely modern. As for houses that are partly modern and therefore have cheaper rents, well, in the words of one realtor, "There ain't no such animal."

The family that can pay a fair rent for a home which is not all modern has a tough time finding a house in the city the survey shows. A fair rent is one which runs from $35 to $50 a month and is a sum that a man earning a fair salary can scrape together to have a roof over his head. The demand for such homes is comparatively high, too, realtors say, although the general moving season here has not yet started this spring.

For the family which can afford a modern home at a rent of $50 to $80 or $65 a month, realtors say there are enough to go round. One realtor intimated that in some cases the landlords are charging a heavy rental fee until the house becomes vacant and then, to get a new renter they cut the fee a few dollars. He didn't add whether the fee was pushed up again after the first few months of occupancy.

New houses in the city don't seem to affect the rent situation primarily because there still are numerous married young people living with the old folks and when a new house is built, it often is the young couple who have started out on their own. During the last few years there have been about 200 houses built annually but the rent situation is basically the same year after year.

BETTER KEEP YOUR EYE ON YOUR DOG

If Shep Don't Show Up at Feed Time, Hurry and Call Street Department Barns

If Fido or Mut or Pal or what ever your dog happens to be named should start off without his collar and doesn't come wandering home about time to eat, the best thing to do is call the street department barns on N. Walnut-st and pray that said pup hasn't been executed. Eventually the city barns is the place where all stray pups without licenses end up and usually they are disposed of before the sun sets on that same day.

More than 300 dogs are shot in Appleton in a year, according to attachés at the city barns. In some cases there have been as many as six to be disposed of in one day. Not that dogs are disposed of at random but rather that persons in the city have no desire to keep them and therefore ask to have them shot. Too, there are numerous dogs running at large without licenses and when they are caught they usually are killed.

Once in a while some one will call the barns and ask some one to get a dog and have the police kill it or will bring a dog to the barns to be disposed of. Returning home for a few hours the same persons will frantically call the barns and want the pup saved. Sometimes they are successful but most of the time they have changed their minds too late.

CITY FIRE PREVENTION RANK NOT DESIGNATED

The ranking of Appleton in the national fire prevention contest has not been designated as yet, according to Kenneth Corbett, secretary of the chamber of commerce. Although several other Wisconsin cities have received their ranking, none of them are in the same class as Appleton, he said.

Adults Should Use Care To Keep Colds From Children

Madison—Mothers must teach people who have a cold, or a cough, or are sneezing, that they cannot hold, kiss, play or handle the food or even sit at the table with the baby.

Observance of this mandate would probably reduce colds and diseases among children by more than 25 per cent, declares the educational committee of the State Medical Society in explaining that the friends of the baby are often its real enemy. Most babies get disease from coming in contact with grown-ups. In a bulletin this week the Medical Society declares that "mothers have under their care, the choicest nurseries of the world." It compares the baby to a young and tender plant, which if not protected from high or cold winds or sudden changes in temperature or certain kinds of insect lift, it is sure to be injured and die.

"The mother has to train herself in baby care and then make it obvious to the baby's father, little brothers and sisters, and to all of their friends and relations who 'just love babies' and 'little children,' but who never raised one from the seed up to full stature, that this little life is in charge of a cautious nurseryman," declares the bulletin of the State Medical Society. "Mothers must teach people that when they have a running nose, a cough, or are sneezing, they cannot hold, kiss, play with, or handle the food or even sit at the table with the baby."

"Meanwhile the mother should build up the child's health. Even though a perfectly healthy child may become infected is exposed to disease, it has been shown that if his food contains an abundance of a certain food factor known as Vitamin A he develops a materially greater resistance to diseases of the lungs and air passages than one whose food contains little of it. Vitamin A is present in abundance in butter fat, cod liver oil, the leaves of plants, in egg yolk, liver and kidney. For the nursing baby, the mother's milk is the best of all foods. Statistics show that the breast-fed baby has a 5 to 1 better chance to resist disease than the bottle-fed baby and a 3 to 1 better chance to recover if he does become ill.

"When a child is not well he should be put to bed and the very best possible care taken of him until he is entirely well again. This is especially true if he has measles or whooping cough, for in these diseases he is very susceptible to the germs that cause pneumonia. When a child under five has infectious disease he should be isolated. This is quite as much to protect him from the germs which other people have in their mouths and noses as to protect others from him. Where there are other children in the family who have had the disease, isolation is just as important, for the well child running about may bring to the sick one some disease germ which the sick child is too weak to resist even though he may be recovering from the original disease."

The present tariff on pig iron is 75 cents per ton; in 1920 it was 57 per ton.

PRICE OF SUGAR AT EAU CLAIRE CAUSING WAR AMONG GROCERS

Over at Eau Claire, the price of sugar is causing considerable trouble among the local merchants and chain store managers. The local merchant seems, thought the chain store managers were discriminating when they lowered the price of sugar to below what it cost the home town men.

The dealers took it up with the chamber of commerce and Kenneth Corbett, secretary of the local chamber, has received a letter from the secretary there, asking for the price sugar was sold at here on the day the trouble started, March 31.

BOARD MEMBERS TALK OF SCHOOL PROBLEMS

Sick Leave Problem and Equalization of Aid Discussed at Milwaukee Meet

A general discussion of school board problems in the larger and smaller cities of the state took place at the annual convention of the Wisconsin School Boards Association in Milwaukee Friday and Saturday. Mrs. S. C. Shannon attended the meeting as representative of the local board.

One of the matters which was the subject of much comment was the statement that schools were costing Wisconsin cities too much and that a limit on expenditures must be established sooner or later. During the discussion which followed, the board members agreed that schools cannot go backward and that the apparent increased cost of educating young people was only a direct result of the increased cost of living.

Other matters brought onto the convention floor were the tenure law schools in other localities have treated for teachers, which would give an instructor a permanent position after he has completed two years service at a school, the sick leave problem for teachers and the equalization of state and outside aid.

The sick leave problem for teachers was discussed by H. O. Plentzke, of the state superintendent's office, on the basis material obtained from every state in the union and from Alaska districts. The various ways in which schools in other localities have treated for teachers, which would give an instructor a permanent position after he has completed two years service at a school, the sick leave problem for teachers and the equalization of state and outside aid.

MOM and Their Letters

BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

Mom darling:

It must be quiet along the Potomac since Florence left. She hadn't been here a day before the lid blew off. Talk about a trouble maker! In the first place I forgot to warn her not to mention Billy's driving me to the station to meet her, and the first thing she did at dinner was to start warbling a song about his eyes and his nose and his wide lapels.

Alan looked more nervous and fidgety at me than there were at the table. I kicked Florence under the table while I smiled across at him.

It was simply marvelous the way she and Billy had taken to each other, I remarked. Then I asked her where they were going on the date they had next day. She looked perfectly set for a minute, but Alan was watching me and fortunately missed her expression when finally she registered comprehension. She knew enough about Billy to make a sensible answer. "Oh, just out to deliver a new car to a customer," she came through.

I then told her I had intended taking her to Shirley Wells' bridge luncheon. I wanted Alan to know that I wasn't planning to help Billy deliver any cars to customers.

"We'll be back in time, maybe," she said.

Then Alan began. He didn't want anyone in his family to be running around with Billy Bartlett. But I interrupted by asking Florence something about Kenneth Oates. That shut him up. I guess Alan would rather have Billy in the family circle than Ken if it ever comes to that.

Florence is going to ask Billy to the party I'm throwing for her tomorrow night, so Alan can't blame me. She's had Alan wild, raving about Billy, but I told him she'd forget him when she goes home and perhaps she'd be cured of Kenneth, too.

I think it's all going to work out very well, providing Billy does his part. I have to arrange a chance for Florence to ask him to the party. So we've about decided to take the car around to the agency and have the oil inspected.

Dearest love,

Marye.

THE wooden man soon dipped and turned until the Tinymites all learned that he knew how to fly. Well, so they were not afraid. Said Carry, "We will be all right, as long as we all hang on tight. Don't do a thing to check his flight, or we will be delayed."

Then Scouty shouted to the man, "Say, kindly tell us, if you can just where you're going to take us. Or, perhaps you do not know." The man replied, "Well that is true. Right now, I simply can't tell you. Wherever little Clowny is, that's where we're going to go."

"I'm heading toward that mountain side. You all will have a dandy ride. Please look around and tell me if you see your missing friend. The bird that took him. I have guessed, has likely dropped him in his nest. We all must keep on looking so's to find him in the end."

Just then they heard a noise nearby and when they gazed up in the sky,

Smoking O. K., Prohibition Wrong Says Girl Law Grad

Miss Golda Schill

NEW ORLEANS — The prohibition law is all wrong and smoking by girls is all right, says Miss Golda Schill, New Orleans, the only woman due to receive a degree at the law school graduation exercises at Louisiana State University in June.

Miss Schill has some pronounced ideas, but let her tell them: "I am opposed to national prohibition because I don't think it can be enforced, because violation of the prohibition act lessens the respect for law, and last of all, because if it could be enforced, it shouldn't be because drinking is not a fit subject for legislation."

"Drinking is not a moral question but one of hygiene. Only excessive drinking becomes a moral question. Women have as much right to smoke as men."

"It is not a sin for a woman to smoke or drink in the presence of her more serious physical consequences."

Paris (AP)—An American woman controls the newspaper with the second largest circulation in the world. She is Madame Paul Dupuy, and the newspaper is the Petit Parisien, credited with a sale of 2,000,000 copies daily.

Madame Dupuy has had the control of the Petit Parisien and Excelsior, as well as several magazines and a pictorial Sunday newspaper, since the death of her husband, the late Senator Dupuy. She has an office, which she visits daily, and is training her sons, 13 and 17 years of age, and a 16-year-old daughter, for newspaper careers.

Madame Dupuy, who was Miss Browne of New York before her marriage, is noted as a hostess and is a prominent member of the American Women's club here.

PLAY ROOM FOR BABY HERE

THE utter peace of it!

Here is a little brown stained wood, stone and soft-toned concrete home that is brand new and yet, in its sprawling coziness manages to look as if it had nestled for years, or even grown up right on the plot of land where it stands.

"The Monte Cristo" has unusual peace in its arrangement and as well as its appearance outside. In the living room one is not conscious of the fact that the family possesses a baby. For the child's room has been isolated at the extreme corner of the house, so both its wee occupant and the rest of the family will have privacy.

The wide porch of this charming home offers seclusion by its brick and stone wall. And the side, sprawling chimney, besides being attractive to look at, is suggestive of quiet hours by the flickering light of its living room fireplace.

Of intriguing interest to the home-maker is the modern kitchen, with not only a breakfast nook to ease the work but a cute back porch where Mother may rest while she shells peas or sits and mends while baby naps.

The price of "The Monte Cristo" is from $7000 to $8000.

DEEP PROBLEM FACES COURTS IN AGE OF CRIME

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
THE mother and aunt who shot and stabbed a man in court because he was acquitted of the murder of a girl, is a concrete example of the principle involved in capital punishment.

Civilization, it seems, has not progressed much beyond the eye-for-an-eye, life-for-a-life stage of development.

One of the most deeply rooted tenets of the human race, civilized or uncivilized, is the idea of compensation. A wrong demands atonement in like and kind. One who kills must die.

It is not vindictiveness exactly, as we understand the word — although there still lives a certain class of person who laughs with unholy joy when a criminal is caught and killed — but something deeper, a personal interpretation of justice, as removed from the legal meaning.

In many states there is no capital punishment. That is the argument of those against it. If it is successful in one community, why not in all? The answer is that people in towns not ten miles apart may be temperamentally different. When it comes to states with different interests, different everything, such divergence of opinion is necessarily greater — including the attitude toward a criminal.

A certain governor wrote in a recent magazine that when he refused to commute a death sentence, in every case it was to save the prisoner from the vengeance of the people.

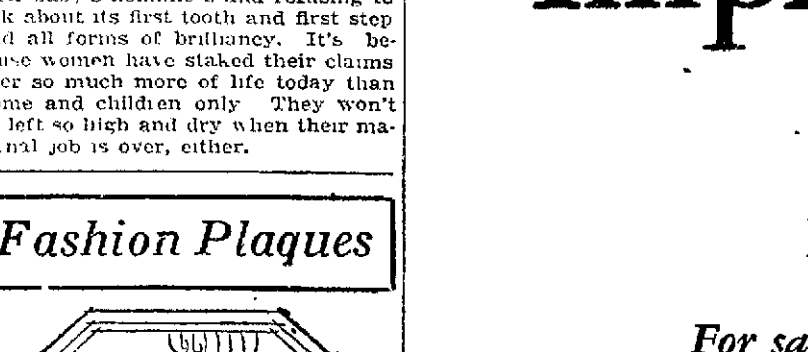

How is it to be settled eventually? There is something about capital punishment that is altogether out of keeping with the nation's progress. After all, we're only a step away from Salem days. Three hundred years hence, will people be referring to us just as we shudder at the witch-burners?

It is perhaps the most difficult question that faces our courts today.

MANY WOMEN TOO MATERNAL IN DAYS GONE BY

BY ALLENE SUMNER
Women are less fiercely maternal today than mothers once were, we are told. At least, they are intelligent enough to recognize the dangers and follies of the two excessive maternal instinct, and seek to subdue it. Mothers of new babies today, for instance, chastise themselves by laughing at their baby's homeliness and refusing to talk about its first tooth and first step and all forms of brilliancy. It's because women have staked their claims over so much more of life today than home and children only. They won't be left so high and dry when their maternal job is over, either.

Happy Child Behaves Well Most Of Time

The happier a child is, the better his behavior will be.

A well-regulated, routine life for a child is essential to his physical and mental welfare.

Regular habits can be formed only if the child learns from experience that he is to do the same thing every day at the same hour.

It is only after the habit has become well established that we can afford to deviate from our charted course.

Even then it is with more or less danger that we introduce exceptions, for with each deviation from the routine come new interests and emotional satisfactions, which in themselves are the driving forces for every new habit. Thus we form the habit of irregularity.

Laziness is a symptom, not a disease. It may have a physical cause; it may have an intellectual basis; it may be an expression of emotional disturbance.

How much iron will be contained in a serving of vegetables depends to a large extent on the method of preparation. It will all be conserved if the vegetables can be served raw, steamed or baked, or cooked in a waterless cooker; little will be lost if the vegetable is boiled in a small amount of water, and the juice used in soups or gravies. One half to three fourths of the iron content of vegetables may be lost if the vegetables are cooked in much water and the water discarded.

Camembert cheese, toasted crackers, milk, coffee.

FISH OMELET
One cup shredded left-over fish, 1 cup chopped cold boiled potatoes, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 cup milk, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 egg.

Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Season with salt and pepper and add eggs slightly beaten. Remove from fire and fold in fish and potatoes. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in a hot frying pan. Turn in mixture and spread smooth. Cook slowly until a golden brown. Fold and turn like an omelet. Serve at once.

GREATLY increased usage now makes it possible permanently to reduce the regular price of Kotex at all stores.

A million new users have adopted Kotex in the past few months. They came to it as a result of the 2 major improvements we recently announced. Kotex is now form-fitting. It has no awkward bulkiness to mar smooth slender lines. It is far softer, fleecier—more comfortable—than ever before.

These two great improvements, coupled with Kotex' other exclusive features, bring perfect peace-of-mind—utter and absolute comfort.

Kotex was the first water-soluble pad—hence disposal is no problem. It is the most absorbent—absorbing 16 times its own weight in moisture, and distributing it in such a manner as to obviate harsh, "waterproofed" backing.

Kotex deodorizes, another important point. And it is bought without hesitancy at any drug, department or dry goods store in the country. Get the Improved Kotex today.

Teachers Find Pupils
Slow Down if Mothers
Omit This Simple Care

Without it they are handicapped at both work and play, say school authorities

Mothers and teachers have been amazed at the result of tests made among school children in many great cities. Lower marks--less energy for games--when mothers fail to start their youngsters off with a bowlful of hot, cooked cereal in the morning.

That is why our schools are now launching a great health campaign on this one point. Today this rule hangs on the walls of 70,000 school rooms:

"Every boy and girl needs a hot cereal breakfast"

For 31 years authorities have recommended Cream of Wheat as the ideal hot, cooked cereal. Partly because children love it, but more because it furnishes the mental and physical energy that they need. And Cream of Wheat is quickly and easily digested by the most delicate stomach. Give it to your children regularly. Cream of Wheat Company, Minneapolis, Minn.

FREE--a plan that arouses children's interest in eating a hot, cooked cereal breakfast: colored picture, old stars, club badges, etc., with a sample box of Cream of Wheat and booklet on child feeding. All free. Address Dept. PC-23 Cream of Wheat Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

INVITE STUDENTS TO SUMMER SCHOOL CAMP

Chicago Educator Says There Is Room for Wisconsin Children at Mercer Camp

An invitation has been received by H. H. Hebble, principal of the Appleton high school from William J. Hogan, assistant superintendent of Chicago's public schools, for the boys of this city to attend the public school camp for boys, established in northern Wisconsin, near Mercer.

The camp is the only educational camp operated by a public school system under authorization and supervision of the United States government. Mayor Thompson suggested that the privilege of attending be extended to Wisconsin boys since the camp is located in their state. Chicago boys are already enrolling for the coming summer.

George Little, director of physical education and athletics at the University of Wisconsin, will personally supervise the athletics. He will be assisted by his corps of coaches, each of whom will teach the fundamentals of his particular sport. Mr. Little said, when interviewed, "I hope many Wisconsin boys will attend so that I may select some good material for our University teams. This camp will enable men to make the personal acquaintance of a large number of boys."

The camp is divided into four distinct operating units, each functioning separately from the others, but forming one well coordinated whole. The summer division offers opportunity to earn a semester's credit in each of two subjects. The second unit, known as the military division, takes care of the boy who merely wants a recreational program. The band and orchestra school gives beginning and advanced music students a chance for musical development. The program of this division embraces history and appreciation, and band and orchestra essentials. The junior camp provides for boys 9 to 14 years old. Boys in this division may attend classes for 6th, 7th and 8th grades.

Applications are to be made to the educational department of the Chicago board of education, 460 South State-st.

In its emotional moments, poignant in its bitter tragedy—that is "Ramona," the United Artists photoplay which opened a 4 day engagement at the Elite Theatre yesterday.

"Ramona" is a screen triumph. Its continuity, direction, acting, photography and scenic vestment stamp it as one of the finest, most artistic pictures ever produced.

It is the second offering of that brilliant trio—Edwin Carewe, the director, Dolores Del Rio, the star and Finis Fox, the scenarist. Their first was "Resurrection," the sensational film product of 1927.

This classic love story by Helen Hunt Jackson has been masterfully directed by Edwin Carewe. The noted director has caught the romantic spirit of early California in the colorful days of the Spanish Dons and he has faithfully brought to life on the screen the beloved characters of the book.

The screen adaptation, written by Finis Fox, is a splendid example of modern screen technique. His continuity is vivid and facile and moves with direct, compelling force.

Dolores Del Rio as "Ramona" is superb. She invests her role with sincerity, deep understanding, poignant feeling and artistic conception. Under the inspirational direction of

Edwin Carewe, this brilliant young artist surpasses in dramatic portrayal even her finest moments in "Resurrection," the picture that swept her, over night, into stardom.

Running the gamut of human emotions, feeling all the pangs of love, despair and woe, Miss Del Rio plays upon the heart strings of her audience. Her histrionic skill and opportunity for full expression in the romantic scenes and in the deep, fine nuances of pathos and tragedy.

Warner Baxter plays "Alessandro," the Indian, with a romantic dash and realism. His portrayal of this difficult role is a highly commendable expression of dramatic art. Roland Drew, in the part of "Don Felipe," a young Spanish gentleman of wealth, gives a splendid performance that is human and sympathetic. Vera Lewis is the sinister menace of the story. In her dramatic scenes with Miss Del Rio, she makes Senora Moreno a grim figure.

GEHRIG HOMERS AS YANKEES REACH FAMILIAR TOP BERTH

Hugginsmen Take First Place Alone As Browns Lose To Chicago's Sox

Giants Drop First Game of Year, but Hold Top as Cards, Robins Also Lose

Any apprehension on the part of the New York fans concerning the poor showing of the Yankees on the spring exhibition tour Tuesday appeared to have been unnecessary as the world champions were out in front with colors flying.

Making their first stand in Boston Monday the Hugginsmen disposed of the Red Sox, 7 to 2, George Pipgras yielding only five hits Columbia Lou Gehrig drove in his home run to place him on the mighty Babe Ruth who has yet to inaugurate his part in the long drive frolic.

Connie Mack's Athletics seem to be slow in getting started, losing to the Senators, 5 to 4. Lusenbe blasted Walberg on the mound Goslin lifted for the circuit in fourth inning and in the eighth, singled along with Bluege, to drive in three runs and the victory.

THOMAS BEATS BROWNS
After nursing a winking streak through four games, the St. Louis Browns were smothered by the White Sox, 7 to 0, Boss Howley throwing 17 men on the field in an effort to stave off defeat. Alphonse Thomas eased the Browns down with seven hits and helped his mates by banging a homer with one on base in the fourth. Johnny Mostil, veteran Sox outfielder, made his first start this year by slugging out a single.

The Tigers put across a three-run rally in the eighth but it was not enough to overcome an early lead by the Indians who won, by 5 to 4. Jackie Tavener of Detroit had an easy day at short going through nine innings without a ball coming his way.

The hard luck which tagged Jess Petty in the previous drive was along side the "Silver Fox" once again as the Braves carried off a 2 to 2 decision over Brooklyn. Rogers Hornsby gathered three hits in four times up. Petty was touched for 12 safeties, while Robertson and Delancy held the Robins to eight.

Burling Grimes, former heater for the Giants, hurled the Pirates to an 8 to 1 victory over Cincinnati, stopping the Reds with six hits. The Senators put the game on ice in the first frame when three hits and an error produced three runs.

CUBS' BATS WIN
The Chicago Cubs went on a batting spree in the fourth inning, scoring five runs off Jess Haines to defeat the Cardinals, 6 to 3. Earl Webb laced out a four-bagger in the fifth session. Guy Bush allowed St. Louis only seven hits and none of them went to Frankie Frisch who failed to connect safely in three official times at bat.

Cy Williams came through with a pinch home run off Pitcher Fitzsimmons with two on base in the eighth inning to help the Phillies subdue the Giants by a 7 to 5 count. The New Yorkers led by a one-run margin up to the eighth when five tallies crossed the plate for the Phillies. Bill Terry was the batting star for the Giants with a triple, double and single in four chances.

BYRNE TAKES DECISION IN GREEN BAY BATTLE
Green Bay, Ky., heavyweight won a newspaper decision over Bud Gorman, Kenosha, Wis., in a slow ten-round bout Monday night. The first seven rounds were marred by continual clinching and the narrow margin by which Byrne took the decision was won in the last three rounds.

In the semi-windup Walter Madley, Chicago, heavyweight, knocked out Al Kubiak, Pulaski, Wis., (4). In the preliminaries Ted Aiers, Oshkosh, won over Frankie Dory, Marinette (6), and Louis Stadler, Oshkosh, knocked out Kid Norman, Green Bay.

WASHINGTON ATHLETE THREAT IN BROADJUMP
Starting serious training for the outdoor season, George Martin, star athlete at Washington State College did 24 feet in practice in the broad jump. He is a sophomore and a former holder of the junior national broad jump championship and he hopes to win a place on the American Olympic team which is to go to Amsterdam this summer. There will be one or two veteran jumpers headed by De Hart Hubbard who are rated close to 25 feet and better, but a 24-foot jumper is almost sure of a place.

PLAN FORMATION OF VALLEY VOLLEY LOOP

Prospects for a Fox River Valley Volleyball association, composed of eight Valley teams, which will play a regular schedule of games during the volleyball season, were brightened as the result of short meetings of team managers and captains of the teams entered which played here Saturday. The teams were entered in the annual northeastern Wisconsin district tournament which was won by the Appleton Blues.

Though nothing definite was decided because of the shortness of the meetings, which were primarily for studying the tourney rules and schedule, all teams present were highly enthusiastic about a league. It is formed it will include cities from Fond du Lac to Green Bay. Probable entrants are the Fond du Lac and Appleton Y. M. C. A. teams, the Paine Lumber Co. and Elks lodge of Oshkosh, Menasha, Neenah and Kimberly, with the eighth team a choice between Green Bay Y. M. C. A. and the Lawrence college professors.

One game would be played each week and all teams would visit every other rival during the season, the winner being the first champion of the Valley association. More definite plans will be made known later.

JOEY CLEIN LOSES IN JANESVILLE STRUGGLE

Janesville, (P)—Batting Morris, Duluth, won a newspaper decision over Joey Clein, Janesville, (10) Al Fox, Rockford, defeated Jack Walsh, Milwaukee (8) Buster Wilbers, Madison, defeated Johnny Leeman, Rockford (4) Wickham, Walworth, knocked out Bert Mitchell, Darlington, (2) K. O. Ammerman, Juda, knocked out farmer Loeft, Albany (2).

Carr is the hope of this country in the event, and Pickard though a student at a university in the states, is the hope of Canada, his native land. Pickard competed in the 1921 Olympics for the Dominion and inasmuch as he is the best vaulter across the border at this time, he is certain to again represent his country.

Pickard holds a verdict over Carr which he gained at last year's relay carnival when he won the event with a leap of 12 feet 10 1/2 inches. The best Carr could do was 12 feet 6 inches giving him a tie with Sturdy of Yale.

Last spring Carr had trouble reaching top form losing to Bradley, of Princeton in the Bulldog-Tiger dual meet. However, by the time the dual, intercollegiate championships called around Carr had regained his form and to the surprise and consternation of the track world soared over the bar at 14 feet for a new world's record.

That Carr has lost none of his form of last spring was evidenced during the winter campaign when he again surprised everybody by leaping higher than any human being had ever leaped, 14 feet 1 inch. It was a new indoor world's record.

Carr is after a new outdoor record and he is looking forward to making it at the relays. Pickard, who has a mark of 13 feet 6 inches and who should vault even higher with the added experience he has gained should give Carr the battle of his career.

Frank O'Brien, of St. Xavier's College, Cincinnati, Sturdy and Fond, of Yale, and Pitman, Williams and Berry, of Cornell, are other stars who will engage Carr on the last Friday and Saturday of the month.

ORANGE TRACKMEN PREPARE FOR THREE HARD COMPETITIONS

Athletes Still Have to Get Outdoors for First Time, With Season Nearing

Unable to set foot on an outdoor track and with the one of their hardest seasons just ahead, Coach Joseph Shield's Appleton high school track and field artists are working out in the high school gymnasium keeping in condition for the first day that they can get outside. The Orange, unlike some of the schools of the vicinity, have had no outside work whatever to date this year, but are hopeful of getting a little before the week is over.

Beside possible dual meets three extra hard competitions are assured the local boys this year, and possibly four, meets that it will take a well-balanced team to even finish high in. The first is May 5 when the Fox River Valley conference relay carnival is held here. Last year the local boys easily walked off with the special events but Manitowoc took all the relay honors. This year the Orange is favored to take the specials, but it also will endeavor to cop a few of the relays so that it can claim the entire meet honors.

With only one member of the Ship's staff, the half-mile relay team of last year back this is possible for Appleton. In the longer relays Manitowoc will be harder to beat with every member of last fall's Valley conference championship cross-country team back, two of whom placed first and third in the half-mile at the Green Bay indoor games recently. Appleton also is weak in the distance events. However, the Orange half-mile relay team beat Manitowoc's best on the indoor track at the Bay in March.

HARD LAWRENCE MEET
On May 19 is the first annual Lawrence College Interstate interscholastic meet, with the strongest teams of Chicago and three neighboring states competing with Wisconsin's best. This will be the hardest test of the year for the Orange entries, and though they are not expected to cop the contest they are expected to take several individual places in various events, though the performers in the meet in many cases have turned in better marks than the Valley conference ever has. A second in the meet will be a great record for a Valley athlete while a first will prove him almost supreme in midwestern interscholastic circles in his event.

On May 26 is the Valley conference relay annual championship meet with all eight schools competing and Appleton defending its 1927 title while Capt. Johnston and Neller defend their records set last year here. The Orange, though, presenting a strong team, will be hard pushed to defend its title because of three other strong rivals and the fact that with eight teams in points will be well divided. Coach Shields will depend on his surps and alternates of last year to pick up enough third and fourth places to aid the first-place winners to take the championship.

There is a possibility of the Orange taking part in the Midwest relays at Madison, April 28, where they would make a good showing and help themselves for the three year hard meets, entered which played here Saturday. The teams were entered in the annual northeastern Wisconsin district tournament which was won by the Appleton Blues.

DAN DOWNS STUHLBREHER

Only a few years ago Harry Stuhlbreher was calling signals and leading the Four Horsemen to sensational victories on the gridiron. He seldom was thrown for any losses in his plans. Since graduation "Stu" has been coaching football at Villanova College and playing with the society folks in Philadelphia and now he's been thrown for a loss of Dan Cupid and will marry Miss Mary Agnes McEnery in June. Other members of the Notre Dame backfield of 1924 are expected to be in his wedding party.

Telegraphic Golf Meet To Be Held In September

The world's biggest and most unique golf tournament, The National Amateur Telegraphic Golf tournament will be played Sept. 1, 2, 3 and 4, according to announcement made today from National headquarters of the Forty Thieves, national amateur golf association. Unlike any other golf tournament, will be played on golf courses throughout the United States and Canada simultaneously during the four days, players telegraphing their scores to a centralized control station, where pairings for the next day will be made up and telegrapher to winners in previous days' rounds.

The tournament is open to all amateurs, and the qualifying round which will be the week starting Monday, August 6th and lasting until sundown Sunday, August 12th, is expected to attract a field of at least 3,000 players. Matched-medal play, a new type of tournament golf, will start Saturday, September 1st and continue through four days.

Every player in the qualifying round, no matter what his score may be, will be permitted to play in the regular four days' competition. Six flights, divided into 16-player wings or divisions, will be used to pair players according to their qualifying scores. Medal winners in each bracket will be paired in succeeding days play. For the purpose of equalizing playing condition, all players will be handicapped on an arbitrary par of 70, additions or deductions to their score being made as required.

Trophies valued at more than $5,000 will be awarded in 100 classes. The big cup to be known as the Pasha's Cup, will be awarded lowest medal player of the tournament, while gold and silver medals will be awarded winners and runners up in each wing. Special trophies for low scores, birdies, eagles, par scores, players from the greatest distance, state medalists etc., will be awarded.

The tournament is unique for several reasons: one because every player plays on his own golf course against an unseen-unknown opponent. Another because all play will be directed and controlled by telegraph and again because of the wing division of flights which permits perfect pairings of players according to their medal scores. Under the usual system of match play at least half of each flight is purposely "eliminated" in the first round to bring the best golfers together in the semi-final and final rounds. Matched-medal play is a new angle of tournament play, and as medal play is the true test of golf, genuine competition will occur in this big tournament.

Entries for the tournament are now being received from all parts of the United States and Canada, following a preliminary announcement several weeks ago, to members of the Forty Thieves. The event however is open to all amateur golfers. Tournament headquarters have been opened at 514 Exchange building, Miami, Florida, where information may be secured concerning the tournament. The tournament committee includes Major Henry S. Barrett, Baltimore, Md.; Henry Skaug, Lewistown, Montana; Harry T. Kendall, Kansas City, Mo.; R. A. Nelson, Little Rock, Ark., and C. L. Holden, Springfield, Mass.

VETERAN JOE JUDGE MUST FIGHT FOR JOB
Fighting for his old job on first base with the Washington Senators, the veteran Joe Judge smacked out four hits in four trips to the plate in the opening game of the season against the Boston Red Sox. Judge was about to be traded when the Senators bought George Sisler from the Browns during the winter, but Bucky Harris was doubtful and decided to keep Judge around for a while when Cleveland was trying to get him. Even Sisler can't take Joe's job away from him if he continues to hit near that pace.

HAWKEYES SPONSOR OLYMPIC TRYOUTS

Seventeen Events for Athletes from Nine States June 23

Iowa City — Athletics from nine states who hold aspirations for membership on the American Olympic track and field team will compete here in the midwestern sectional trials June 23 under the auspices of the University of Iowa.

This has been decided by the American Olympic committee which has scheduled ten official sectional tryouts in various sections of the country.

Any amateur athlete in these states is eligible: Iowa, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Minnesota, and Wisconsin. Only the eastern trials in New York City include more territory.

On the last track in the Hawkeye stadium, scene of several world record-breaking performances within the past five years, these nine events will be contested: 100, 200, 400, 800, 1500, 5000, and 10,000 meters runs, 110-meter high hurdles, and 400-meter 3 foot hurdles.

The eight field events are: running high jump; running broad jump; hop, step, and jump; pole vault; discus, hammer, and javelin throws; and shot put.

No athlete who does not qualify in sectional trials will be permitted to enter the final events at Cambridge, Mass., July 6 and 7, and at New Haven, Conn., July 4.

Hundreds of entry blanks for the Iowa meets will soon be mailed by university athletic officials. In 1924 Iowa also was host to the athletes competing in sectional trials.

INTERNATIONAL LOOP STARTS 1928 SEASON

New York, (P)—Eight teams well matched on paper form the basis for confidence of President John Conway Toole and owners of the International League clubs for a successful 1928 season, opening Wednesday.

The Newark Bears open the season as hosts to Toronto, handicapped by the absence of Walter Johnson, manager and pitcher. He is in a Washington hospital. Al Mamaux will pitch the opening game.

Toronto boasts a pitching staff in first class condition. Bill O'Hara will call on Jess Doyle to pitch the opener.

Montreal returns to the International League with a first stand at Reading. George Stallings, "miracle man" of the Boston Braves, of 1911, has instilled a fine spirit into Montreal's team.

Buffalo's Bisons, the champions, open against the Baltimore Orioles. George Earnshaw, called by Baltimore enthusiasts "the greatest of all minor league pitchers" will be on the mound.

Chicago—Jack McKenna, Toronto, defeated Walcott Langford, Chicago, (8). Howard Bentz, Milwaukee, won over Ted Esterbrook, Niles, O., (7).

Mass., July 6 and 7, and at New Haven, Conn., July 4.

WEATHER HAMPERS SHIP TRACK TEAM

Manitowoc Boys Take Daily Workouts as Snow Covers Track

Manitowoc — Greatly hampered by poor weather conditions, the track and field candidates of the local high school have been taking daily workouts in an attempt to get into condition for the approaching season. Not since the indoor classic at Green Bay on March 31 have the men been able to get into real competition.

With only two weeks in which to prepare for the coming outdoor season, Coach J. H. Johnson is hoping for the most favorable weather so that the sprinting candidates can get down to real practice. Capt. Dick Towlesley has been keeping in condition by daily work-outs, but needs to have some real practice for the barriers, which has been impossible to date.

A few of the men had a little taste of competition at the time of the annual intramural festival two weeks ago. Harold Schreiber, the big junior, made a creditable showing in the running high jump by taking first place with a leap of 5 ft. 8 in. actual measurement. He has also been devoting considerable time to the shot-put, and should also give an account of himself before the close of the outdoor season.

By virtue of his win in the 20 yd. dash in the festival, Haughton, a senior, should develop into a creditable performer this season. Frick, a junior, who was a member of the state championship half-mile relay team last spring, and a star 220-man, is back in the fold, and should place in meets this year. Other men who are working on the short distance events are Matto, Peterson, Novak, and Randolph.

Coach W. L. Johnson, cross country mentor, is taking charge of the middle distance and distance runners, also the shot-putters and pole vaulters. Nearly all of the members of last fall's cross country team are training for these events, and should give a creditable showing.

The season's schedule follows: April 28—Mid-West Relays at Madison; May 6—Conference Relay Carnival at Appleton; May 12—Shelbygan at Manitowoc; May 19—Inter-scholastic meet at Lawrence college; May 26—Conference meet at Manitowoc; June 2—Green Bay-West at Manitowoc.

WILLS BEATS SECOND MALE FOE IN WORKOUT

New York—(AP)—Miss Helen Wills, national women's tennis champion, continues to prepare for her invasion of European courts by meeting strong masculine opposition in her last practice matches before her departure.

Monday at Forest Hills she met the strongest opposition she has yet encountered in Edward G. Chandler, a member of the Davis cup squad, and won 6-4, 6-3, 7-6. The last set was not completed. On Monday she took a stiff three-set match from Elmer Griffin. Tuesday afternoon she probably will meet Griffin again in her last practice session before she and Miss Penelope Anderson sail for Europe on the Aquitania Wednesday night.

Chandler neglected his usual net playing almost entirely in the back court to give Miss Wills practice in driving.

Baltimore —Johnny Fluell, New York, and Bobby Garcia, Baltimore, drew (12).

Walter Madley, Chicago, out Al Kubiak, Milwaukee (4).

ACE HUDKINS BATTLES WALKER FOR HIS TITLE

Chicago—(AP)—The "Nebraska Wildcat," Ace Hudkins will add a few pounds and tackle Micky Walker for the middleweight title here either late in June or July. Promoter James Mulen has announced. Hudkins and his brother-manager, Clyde, got a contract stipulating a percentage share of the gate receipts.

Walker and his manager, Jack Kearns, signed three weeks ago. Joseph Garibaldi, by his military activities, helped to bring about the unification of Italy.

Leads off first and holds its lead

With more horsepower per pound than any other motor car in its class, the Victory easily triumphs in performance.

For this exceptional ratio of power to weight gives the Victory an advantage which its rivals simply cannot hope to compete with.

You notice the difference instantly at the take-off—the Victory always leading. You notice it still more at top speed—the Victory always holding its lead. And when the bills are reached, all attempts to follow the Victory abruptly end.

Rugged Dodge construction makes possible this calibre of power, and the car's unique and beautiful design is peculiarly adapted to fast, smooth travel.

The chassis frame, for instance, is the full width of the body—eliminating body overhang and sidesway. And the gravity (or safety) center is lower because there are no body sills.

A car that deserves the brilliant welcome it has received—and one that you should drive and study at your first opportunity.

WHISKERS ADORNED HOOVERS FACE WHEN HE GOT FIRST JOB

Interesting Story of Affair Is Told by Popular Candidate for President

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of four articles describing Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, and the fifth in a series of Presidential Campaign Portraits written for the Post-Crescent by Robert Talley. The third article on Mr. Hoover will appear tomorrow.

BY ROBERT TALLEY
Washington—A beard got Herbert Hoover his first big job and started him on the road to wealth.
That story is one of the most interesting in the whole career of the secretary of commerce, now a candidate for the presidency.
Hoover had worked his way through Leland Stanford University—with an income derived from his laundry-gathering service, other private enterprises and vacation earnings—and graduated in engineering.
Leaving school, he worked as a laborer in a Sierra mine, to gain experience, before he got a job with Louise Janin, a famous mining engineer on the Pacific coast. Janin told Hoover he needed a clerk who could operate a typewriter and Hoover accepted the place. Then Hoover hurried to his lodgings to spend the next four days learning how to operate a typewriter.
Hoover did not remain a clerk very long. His ability as a mining engineer was pronounced and his reputation and income increased. For two years he traveled all over the west as an expert on Janin's staff. Janin recognized him as a budding genius and treated him accordingly.
In 1897, when the West Australian gold boom was at its height, a great London mining firm asked Janin to recommend to them an engineer capable to handle new properties for them. The salary was $7500 a year. Janin picked Hoover and Hoover started for London to talk to his new bosses.
Janin had one worry, however. The conservative British had insisted that their man be at least 35 years old. Janin, in his recommendation, had said that Hoover was just 33; he hardly felt he could add more than 10 years to the young man's age. So Hoover, en route to London, grew a beard.
On his arrival he was greeted by his new employer with the remark: "How remarkably you Americans keep your youth! You don't look a day over 25. How the devil do you do it?"
Into the rich West Australia mining region Hoover went, hunting for new mines and developing old ones. It was a desert country, barren and windwept, where water was found only in small springs that were miles apart. The temperatures seldom went below 100, even at night.
Thousands of men were working feverishly. They lived in corrugated iron shacks, got along with little water to drink and none at all to wash in.
It was a long way from the home office and Hoover could not ask for advice or instructions when in doubt. It was up to him to decide every question for himself and lose his job if he decided wrong.

After the ore had been found and a method of extracting it perfected, Hoover remained the task of organizing the mine and putting it on a systematic, businesslike, dividend-producing basis. Rather a large order for a young man of 23; but Hoover succeeded so well that in two years he was famous throughout the mining world and was drawing a large salary.
Thus began Hoover's 20 years as a mining engineer in all parts of the world. He traveled far and wide—Australia, Russia, China, Korea, Burma and other remote spots—installing American methods and machinery. He lived a rough, open life in jungles and deserts and built up a rugged constitution that today accounts for his excellent health at 54.
His wealth grew to a fortune and at 30—when the World War broke out and he turned his attention to it—he sold all his holdings, invested in securities and retired from business to live on his income.
But the call of the engineer is still strong within him. Washington remembers that during the Food Administration days—when Herbert, Jr., and Allen were much younger than they are now—their father used to take them and other children to Rock Creek Park and build dams for them in the little streams. The man who then held the nation's food supply in the hollow of his hand, sloshed around in rubber boots, got all muddy and sloppy and enjoyed it immensely.
Hoover was in China on a mining job when the Boxer rebellion broke out. With him was his bride to whom he had been married in California—by a Catholic priest who had dispensation to marry Protestants—just before he sailed. They were in Tientsin when the uprising flamed and the Chinese attacked.
Hoover took an active part in organizing the Americans for defense of the city. He managed to save the life of a wealthy Chinese coal mine owner, one Chang Yen Chow, whom the inter-allied relief forces were on the point of executing as a Boxer sympathizer. Pleading seizure of his property the canny mandarin signed his mines over to Hoover's company, a sort of trustee. They were developed to the vast benefit of all concerned.
In 1902 Hoover was called to London and made a partner in the great mining company that had sent him to Australia. He had not been there long before an employee absconded with a huge sum, leaving various customers and creditors very much in the lurch.
The senior partner was away at the time. The firm was not legally liable, but Hoover promptly announced that the firm would make all losses good. The senior partner was indignant when he heard of it and hastened back to London to tell Hoover that, for his solicitude, he could have the job of cleaning up the debts. Hoover

SEEK WILLIAM KIMBALL FOR GOLDEN JUBILEE

Members of the graduating class of 1873 of the University of Wisconsin are seeking information as to the whereabouts of William Whitecomb Kimball, who resided in Appleton at the time he entered the university. The class of '73 is planning its golden jubilee reunion for next June and is making an attempt to locate all missing members.

Anyone having information of Mr. Kimball's whereabouts or the location of living relatives, has been requested to communicate with Herman Egstad, secretary of the alumni association at Madison.

Of the 42 students who graduated in '73 only two are missing. Of the remaining 119 members of the class who did not remain at the university for a degree, 51 are still missing and Mr. Kimball is one of these.

COSTS 2 CENTS FOR POST CARD TO CANADA

A misunderstanding is prevalent among patrons as to the amount of postage necessary for post cards to Canada, according to F. F. Wettengel, acting postmaster. The rate for postcards to Canada is 2 cents for single and 4 cents for reply-paid post cards. The parcel post rate to Canada is 14 cents for each pound or fraction thereof and the weight limit of parcel post packages is 15 pounds.

FARMERS ARE READY BUT WEATHER HINDERS WORK

Farmers of Outagamie-co have been ready to work the land for the past two or three weeks but unfavorable weather has hindered them, according to rural mail carriers. Freezing weather each night prevents the land from drying enough to allow the farmers to start work. Not much farm work will be done during the remainder of April unless weather conditions improve.

did it and by 1906 everything was squared.

Hoover then went into business for himself. He opened mines in Burma, China, Korea, Australia, Russia, and the United States. His wealth grew, but he remained in that job for the rest of his life he probably would have amassed one of the great fortunes of the world, comparable to those of Mellon and Morgan.

But fate had it otherwise. In 1914, the World War broke out, changing the whole course of Hoover's life and thrusting him into world-wide prominence. He ceased to be a mining expert and for the next six or seven years he served the world.

"Ramona"

"Ramona," which is described as the "theme" song in the film play of that name, is a characteristic film play waltz, constructed upon the standardized lines laid down for that type of composition. Bits of Spanish melody appear, and a familiar rhythmic figure from "La Paloma" is made to do service. There is a vocal duet by Young and Fulton.

Birds' Origin

The origin of birds goes far back into the story of the world, when scaly reptiles developed wings. They were the first creatures to soar from the land and make the air their own. We have the remains of the Archaeopteryx, the first bird, on which to base our understanding. It was a bird about the size of a crow, with many teeth and the tail of a lizard. 4-2

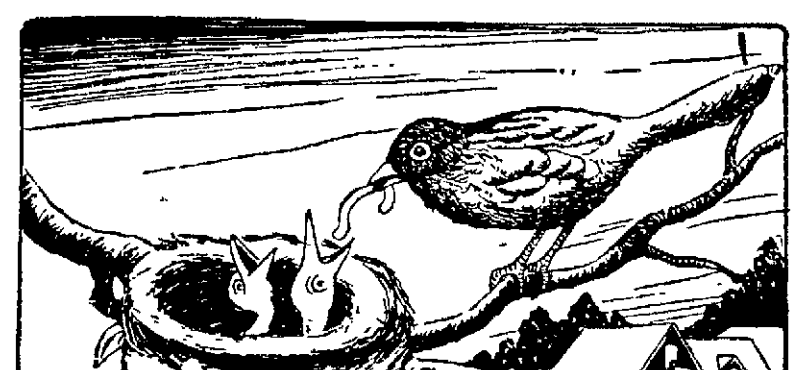

By NEA Through Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge, Copyright, 1923-25.

Discovery in America has brought to light remains of the Pterodactyl that lived and died on the slopes of the Rocky Mountains.

Birds were the first of the backboneed creatures to build homes. They weave nests that are marvels of neatness, beauty and efficiency.

Parent birds are as devoted in their care of the eggs as a lioness is of her cubs. A sitting hen often remains steadfast at her post when the nest is invaded. Birds, when born, are as helpless as a human babe. To feed them the parents must work almost to exhaustion, flying mile after mile in search of choice morsels for their downy little children. ANGELINE REITZNER WINNER OF CARNIVAL POPULARITY CONTEST

New London Benefit Comes to a Successful Close After Three Days

Special to Post-Crescent

New London—The annual banquet Spring festival and automobile show came to a close Monday night with a dance and frolic at the Borden annex. Miss Angeline Reitzner, Miss Marjorie Zaig and Miss Gertrude Polzin were the three winning highest places in the popularity contest which kept the interest at a high pitch throughout the three days on which the event was staged for the New London Community hospital.

Miss Reitzner won the engraved loving cup, the gift of the jewelers of the city; Miss Zaig's prize was a choice of photographs from the studio of Carter-Hanson, and Miss Polzin won a choice of hats from Irma's Hat shop.

The winner of the first prize made her entrance seated in one of the new sport model cars from the Bettor Motor company's garage and was presented with a bunch of roses by the chairman of the festival committee, Norman Ortelbe. She was joined by the other winners in the contest.

Members of the hospital auxiliary and the hospital board were unanimous in their wish to make the festival an annual event, as it was understood that the annex could be obtained for the purpose. Co-operation was excellent throughout, many people of the city contributing their services and working faithfully. One of these pointed out for wholehearted work was Fred Miller, an ex-army cook who presided at the lunch booth during the three days. The flower booth, selling roses and carnations, was another attractive feature, as the proceeds of all sales are to be contributed to the hospital fund. Borden's booth, turning out malted milk was another booth which helped to swell the fund. The booth was in charge of Fred Radke and Miss Laura Schaller of the Borden office. Foremen of the plant contributed their services in relays in the ticket booth and at the door.

How Much Water Should Baby Get? A Famous Authority's Rule

By Ruth Brittain

Baby specialists agree nowadays, that during the first six months, babies must have three ounces of fluid per pound of body weight daily. An eight pound baby, for instance, needs twenty-four ounces of fluid. Later on the rule is two ounces of fluid per pound of body weight. The amount of fluid absorbed by a breast fed baby is best determined by weighing him before and after feeding for the whole day, and it is easily calculated for the bottles fed ones. Then make up any deficiency with water.

Good baby's fluid water often pleases a baby, crying, upset and restless spells. If it doesn't give him a few drops of Fletcher's Castor Oil. The new and other ill of babies and children such as colic, cholera, diarrhea, run on stomach and bowels, constipation, sour stomach, loss of sleep, indigestion, etc., leading physicians say through nothing as effective as this pure vegetable—their recipe is on the wrapper—and millions of mothers have depended on it in over thirty years of ever increasing use. It regulates baby's bowels, makes him sleep and eat right, enables him to get full nourishment from his food, so it increases in height as he should. With each package you get a book on Motherhood worth its weight in gold.

Just a word of caution. Look for the signature of Dr. H. Fletcher on the package. You'll be sure to get the genuine. The forty-cent bottles contain thirty-five doses.

Are You One of Those Women?

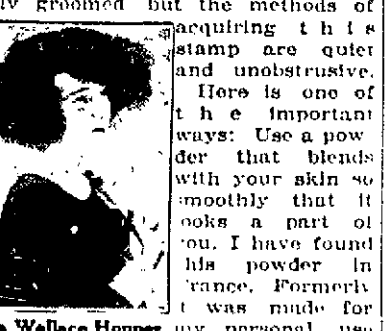

By Edna Wallace Hopper

Certain women are sufficiently interesting in appearance to cause people to look twice. The secret is an outstanding smartness.

Always such a person appears perfectly groomed but the methods of acquiring this smartness are quite and unobtrusive.

Here is one of the important ways: Use a powder that blends with your skin so smoothly that it looks a part of you. I have found the powder in "J. Belzer's Face Powder" is much for my personal use. Now you can buy it at your own toilet counter. The price is $1. It comes in a square box. Ask for Edna Wallace Hopper's Heavy Face Powder.

For certain skins which do not require as clinging a type I have what I call my Light Face Powder, which comes in a round box at a lower price. Both types in Flesh, Brunette, White.

KEEP U. S. OUT OF BUSINESS, COOLIDGE WARNS DAUGHTERS

Tells D. A. R. Not to Surrender Local Government to Federal Agencies

Washington (AP)—A warning to those who are "willing to surrender local self-government" to federal agencies or private interests was couched by President Coolidge Monday night with an admonition against letting the government in the field of business.

Addressing the Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the President elaborated extensively on those two themes but gave no indication whether his views were prompted by recent incidents or legislative proposals before the federal Congress.

Observing that there are always "those who are willing to surrender local self-government and turn over their affairs to some national authority in exchange for a payment of money out of the Federal Treasury," the President continued:

"Whenever they find that some abuse needs correction in their neighborhood, instead of applying a remedy themselves they seek to have a tribunal sent on from Washington to discharge their duties for them, regardless of the fact that in accepting such suggestions they are bartering away their freedom."

Government, Mr. Coolidge said, must be kept out of business.

"If the people are to remain politically free they must be economically free," he asserted. "Their only hope in that direction is for them to keep their own business in their own hands."

He expressed a belief that public ownership leads inevitably to a "position of entrenched selfishness, where a great body of public employees and large outside interests are in virtual control, with the general public paying a high cost for poor service." "With all the care that it is possible to exercise," he said, "a situation of this kind becomes entangled in favoritism and is always in great danger of causing corruption and scandal."

Stressing local self-government as his chief aim, he said that for the ideal that the revolution was fought to end that the individual might be "free to manage his own affairs, whether they were economic, political or religious," the President continued:

"At certain times and in certain places we have been neglectful of it, and the power of self-government, instead of being retained by the people, has been exercised by those who were serving their own private interests rather than the public welfare. But the people have always aroused themselves and recaptured the control of their own affairs."

Turning to state rights, he said:

"We have long realized that we have become one nation. But it is a nation founded on individual states. Their rights ought always to be scrupulously regarded. Unless their actions are such as to violate the Constitution and seriously interfere with the rights of other states, they should be left to select their own problem in their own way under the pressure of public opinion, rather than have outside authority step in to attempt to solve it for them."

"If we are going to have local self-government with all of its advantages, we must not escape from some of its limitations. When authority is located far off it is necessarily less well informed, less sympathetic and less responsive to public requirements. When it is close at hand, it is more likely to be executed publicly and in the public interest. Having a personal contact with it is more humane and more charitable. On the other hand, rights cannot be long preserved unless they are accompanied by a discharge of obligations. States' rights cannot be used indefinitely to perpetuate national wrongs."

Funny Situations IN EAGLE MINSTREL

Woman's Ambition to Have a Butler Creates Laughable Comedy Farce

A husband playing the part of butler and a stranger playing the part of the husband are two complications which lead to many amusing situations in "Mary's Aunt," an act farce comedy to be presented as part of the Eagle Minstrel show Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights at Eagle hall. Because Mary, the principal character played by Dean Chamberlin, pretended she was rich, she was forced to borrow household furnishings to keep up the pretence when the aunt arrived on the scene.

Unable to get a butler, Mary pressed her husband into service. The part is played by J. M. VanRooy. Then the aunt, taken by Mrs. Bertha Barry, insisted upon a husband and Mary secured a stranger to pose as her husband for one evening. But everything went wrong and then the fun began. Other parts in the comedy are taken by Betty Chamberlin, Myrtle Rogers and Byron Serogy.

Judge Fred V. Heinemann is the interlocutor for the minstrel. A special performance was given Sunday afternoon for about 150 children and 50 adults.

BRING EXPERT HERE TO TREAT POTATOES TO KILL DISEASES

County Farm Agent Helps Dale and Medina Farmers Get Rid of Scurf and Scab

Preparations have been made by R. A. Amundson, county agricultural agent, to treat seed potatoes for farmers of Outagamie-co to prevent scurf, black leg and scab.

On Friday, April 20, a station for treating potatoes will be established at the Clover Brand cheese factory, two miles west of Hortonville, and on Saturday, April 21, stations will be conducted at the Henry Slevert Cheese factory, two miles west of Dale and at the Len Nutter Cheese factory in Dale village.

John Brann, a potato expert from the college of agriculture, Madison, will be in charge of the treatments.

Mr. Amundson points out that last fall he looked over 25 fields in Dale and Hortonville and found that most of the potatoes had scurf, black leg or scab. He said these diseases can be prevented by treating with hot formaldehyde.

The potatoes can be taken to the treating stations by the farmers either in crates or sacks, not more than 14 bushels to a container. It takes only three minutes to treat the potatoes and they can be taken home again. The cost of treating, only 4 cents per bushel, is paid by the farmer.

It isn't necessary to wait until planting time to treat the potatoes. Mr. Amundson points out, as this treatment can be given at once and when the potatoes have dried off the treatment is harmless. By treating potatoes now the sprouts have a chance to come out and not be damaged by the process, Mr. Amundson said.

FUNNY SITUATIONS IN EAGLE MINSTREL

Woman's Ambition to Have a Butler Creates Laughable Comedy Farce

A husband playing the part of butler and a stranger playing the part of the husband are two complications which lead to many amusing situations in "Mary's Aunt," an act farce comedy to be presented as part of the Eagle Minstrel show Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights at Eagle hall. Because Mary, the principal character played by Dean Chamberlin, pretended she was rich, she was forced to borrow household furnishings to keep up the pretence when the aunt arrived on the scene.

Unable to get a butler, Mary pressed her husband into service. The part is played by J. M. VanRooy. Then the aunt, taken by Mrs. Bertha Barry, insisted upon a husband and Mary secured a stranger to pose as her husband for one evening. But everything went wrong and then the fun began. Other parts in the comedy are taken by Betty Chamberlin, Myrtle Rogers and Byron Serogy.

Judge Fred V. Heinemann is the interlocutor for the minstrel. A special performance was given Sunday afternoon for about 150 children and 50 adults.

OLD EXEMPTIONS PLAN BENEFITS TAXPAYERS

Assessor Says Change Will Mean No More Work for Him and Deputies

If the present system of exemptions under the income tax law is repealed and the old system restored it will make very little difference in the amount of work to be done by the assessor of incomes and his deputies although it will mean a small saving to individual tax payers, according to Leo G. Toumoulin, assessor for Outagamie and Waupesa-co.

Under the old system, exemptions were made on the total income, taxed while under the new system the exemptions are deducted after the tax has been figured on the total assessable income.

Regular Republicans, in discussing their platform stand, have practically decided to support a restoration of the old exemptions in the income tax law and declare themselves for the repeal of the law adopted at the legislature of 1927 providing for the application of a basic exemption on which no tax is assessed.

Mr. Toumoulin explained there was little difference in the amount of work required to figure the exemptions under either system.

According to George T. Prim, chief of police, one of the men made a small purchase and presented a $10 bill in payment.
